THE CASE

On 17 June 1KOMMA5° announced, with European investors and banks, a financing programme of up to one billion euros so German homeowners can buy solar, storage, heat pumps and wallboxes on instalments of up to 25 years at 5.99%. Next day manager magazin reported IPO preparations, the CEO on a roadshow, and 2026 revenue projected around €660M with EBITDA profitability. The base is real: revenue of €520M in 2024, up from €450M, 2,500 staff, 170,000 systems installed, and €150M of pre-IPO financing led by CalSTRS in December 2024.

Formula E's team rosters carry energy majors and battery makers, not the home. Shell sits with Lola Yamaha ABT and owns sonnen, a direct rival in German home storage; TotalEnergies sits with DS Penske; Envision Group, a wind and battery group, owns Envision Racing; Castrol, a bp brand, is at Jaguar TCS Racing. No team carries a residential energy brand, yet Berlin, Zandvoort and Madrid are raced in countries where 1KOMMA5° sells.

WHY NOW

A pre-IPO consumer brand needs European awareness in the quarters before it lists, and the €1bn programme is its biggest customer push yet. Formula E's GEN4 era opens in Jeddah on 18 December; partner deals for the debut season close this autumn, and Berlin, Zandvoort and Madrid follow in 2027.

BOTTOM LINE

A €1bn customer programme, a reported IPO roadshow and €520M of revenue give 1KOMMA5° the motive and the means for its first European brand platform. Mahindra Racing's roster has no energy brand, its GEN4 commitment runs to 2030, and Berlin, Zandvoort and Madrid in 2027 are 1KOMMA5°'s home markets.

WHY MAHINDRA RACING

Mahindra Racing is a founding Formula E team, based in Banbury, that committed in November 2025 to race as a manufacturer through the GEN4 era to 2030. Its roster is the shortest on the grid: Mahindra & Mahindra as title and Tech Mahindra, no energy, battery or home-electrification brand. Unlike Porsche and Cupra Kiro, it has no group energy arm competing with Heartbeat AI, and it races Berlin, Zandvoort and Madrid, 1KOMMA5°'s markets.

VALUE TO MAHINDRA RACING — MODE B (TECH SERVES THE TEAM OPERATION)

MODE B - halo with mechanics. Heartbeat AI pools 40,000 networked home systems into Europe's largest residential virtual power plant; Formula E's energy management, harvesting and deploying a fixed battery over a race, is the same story at car scale. Mechanics: 1KOMMA5° on car and race suits at the European rounds; a Heartbeat-led energy series in Mahindra's race content; showroom activations in Berlin and Madrid on race weekends.

DEAL ARCHITECTURE

Entry as Official Home Energy Partner. THREE YEARS, Seasons 13-15 (2026/27 to 2028/29), covering the GEN4 debut and the listing window. Estimated €1.5-2.5M a year in cash and media. Scope: car and race-suit placement, a Heartbeat AI content series, Berlin and Zandvoort hospitality, showroom activations.

PRIMARY DECISION-MAKER

Philipp Schröder
CO-FOUNDER & CEO, 1KOMMA5° · VERIFIED

Schröder ran Tesla Germany and sonnen before co-founding 1KOMMA5° in 2021; Porsche profiled him as a founder-pioneer that year, his only motorsport-adjacent tie. Path: Micha Grueber, Co-Founder and CFO, who owns the IPO; Jannik Schall, Co-Founder and Chief Product Officer. No group chief marketing officer is listed.

OPENING ANGLE

Lead with the IPO year and the empty Mahindra roster.

“Philipp, you have a billion euros to put into German homes and a roadshow to run; Mahindra Racing has no energy brand on the car and races Berlin, Zandvoort and Madrid in your IPO year. 25 minutes before the GEN4 season opens?”

SCORE COMPOSITION

RISKS & COUNTERS

HALO, NOT WORKSTREAM A racing team does not buy home solar; the value is audience and story, and Mahindra has been rebuilding from the back of the field. Counter: Price it as media and hospitality; tie renewals to reach in Germany, Spain and the Netherlands.

IPO TIMING HAS SLIPPED A 2026 listing was the hope when the pre-IPO financing closed in December 2024; a delayed IPO can freeze marketing spend. Counter: Structure year one as GEN4-launch activation with an IPO-year option.
