THE CASE

1Password has raised $920M (last round at a $6.8B valuation) and has crossed ~$400M in ARR (up from $331M in 2024), with more than 180,000 business customers, gross retention above 90% and positive free cash flow. CEO David Faugno has said the company is weighing a 2026 or 2027 IPO - it is 'not rushing' - so this is a genuine pre-listing brand-building window rather than a dated scramble. Enterprise identity and access security is unrepresented in Formula E, and 1Password's North American brand maps cleanly onto Andretti, whose enterprise-friendly, sustainability-forward audience matches its buyer profile. A pre-IPO multi-year partnership lets the company build enterprise credibility while entering a category no rival holds.

WHY NOW

Pre-IPO brand investment plus an open category in a growing, enterprise-credible championship make this the moment to plant a flag - before the listing (which CEO David Faugno is weighing for 2026/2027), when category exclusivity is cheapest, and while a refreshed leadership team shapes the next-phase brand.

BOTTOM LINE

A profitable enterprise-identity leader at ~$400M ARR ($6.8B valuation), weighing a 2026/2027 IPO - and Formula E has no identity-security brand. Andretti is the open North American seat; lock the category before the listing while it's cheap.

WHY ANDRETTI FORMULA E

Andretti's North American identity and Formula E growth platform fit 1Password's brand and buyer base, and Andretti's recent embrace of technology partners (including an AI partnership) shows an organisation receptive to enterprise-tech storytelling rather than pure consumer signage.

VALUE TO ANDRETTI FORMULA E — MODE A (TECH IN THE CAR / CHAMPIONSHIP)

MODE A. A racing organisation's distributed staff, drivers and partners need secure credential and access management across many systems and locations; 1Password is a real, deployable operational partner. The deal can include securing the team's own access infrastructure, giving Andretti genuine value and 1Password an authentic 'who has access' story plus enterprise hospitality.

DEAL ARCHITECTURE

Official Identity Security Partner tier on Andretti Formula E, minimum three years, ~$3-4M/yr, with category exclusivity and a working deployment for the team.

PRIMARY DECISION-MAKER

Melton Littlepage
CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER, 1PASSWORD - VERIFIED
(APPOINTED AUG 2023; PREVIOUSLY CMO AT OUTREACH)

Owns 1Password's brand strategy and the IPO-readiness brand-build a Formula E partnership would anchor; 20+ years in security/tech marketing (ex-CMO Outreach, ex-Tenable, ex-SVP New Relic). Co-decision-maker on marquee spend: CEO David Faugno (note: long-time CEO Jeff Shiner moved to Executive Chair of the board in July 2025).

OPENING ANGLE

"Melton, Formula E is the enterprise-friendly, sustainability-forward grid - and identity security isn't on it. Own the category before your IPO, on a North American team that fits 1Password. 25 minutes?"

SCORE COMPOSITION

TIMING 15 / 20 CEO David Faugno is weighing a 2026/2027 IPO ('not rushing') - a real pre-IPO brand window even without a single dated trigger; the leadership bench was refreshed in 2025.	CAPACITY 16 / 20 $6.8B valuation, ~$400M ARR (up from $331M in 2024), 180,000+ business customers and positive free cash flow - ample capacity for an FE entry tier.	BRAND FIT 15 / 20 Identity and access security is a clean enterprise story, and the North American identity fits Andretti.	URGENCY 12 / 20 A pre-IPO brand window exists, but no acute external trigger yet.	OPS FIT 14 / 20 MODE A: credential and access security is a genuine, team-wide operational need.

RISKS & COUNTERS

IPO SEQUENCING Brand spend may follow rather than precede the listing. Counter: Lock category exclusivity now at a pre-IPO price; scale activation after listing.

FE VS F1 REACH QUESTION Leadership may instinctively reach for F1's larger audience. Counter: FE's enterprise/sustainability profile and lower category-crowding give 1Password ownership it could never get in saturated F1 fintech/security lanes.
