THE CASE

Ramp's active $750M raise at above $40B pre-money is the BRAND RECKONING MOMENT - when a category-defining fintech transitions from growth story to institutional brand. With $100B+ annualized purchase volume, 50,000+ business customers and a freshly opened London office targeting EU/UK onboarding this summer, the commercial clock is running. No spend-management or AI-finance brand holds a position anywhere on the F1 grid; Brex has no motorsport deal. The slot that matches Ramp's Visa issuing relationship and EU/UK expansion arc is open at Visa Cash App Racing Bulls.

WHY NOW

The $750M raise closes a short window, and the F1 London race in August 2026 is a live activation for Ramp's UK onboarding launch. Terms must be set before that calendar date locks.

WHY VISA CASH APP RACING BULLS

Racing Bulls already carries Visa as title sponsor. Ramp's renewed multi-year Visa issuing agreement makes co-presence structural rather than conflicting - Ramp sits as the spend-management intelligence layer above the Visa rail. Cash App's younger demographic mirrors Ramp's CFO-suite and developer audience, and no competing spend-management brand is on the car.

VALUE TO VISA CASH APP RACING BULLS — MODE B (TECH SERVES THE TEAM OPERATION)

MODE B. Ramp's payments rail and back-office stack map to Racing Bulls' commercial operation: paddock supplier settlements, sponsor-activation treasury flows, and a partner-onboarding funnel where venture-backed CFO-suite companies are the incoming audience. Ramp's Visa issuing partnership amplifies rather than displaces the title relationship. Surfaces: garage hospitality, pit-wall broadcast cuts, and digital founder-audience activation timed to the London race.

DEAL ARCHITECTURE

Official Spend Management Partner tier. FOUR YEARS to span the EU/UK build-out and capture two full FIA calendar rotations through London, Las Vegas and Austin. Estimated $6-9M/yr. Garage and cockpit logo rights, Visa co-activation rights, hospitality at London and Las Vegas, digital content rights for Ramp's CFO-audience channels.

PRIMARY DECISION-MAKER

Eric Glyman

CEO & CO-FOUNDER, RAMP

Glyman co-founded Ramp after co-founding Paribus (acquired by Capital One). He drives all strategic capital allocation and partnership decisions; the $750M raise and Visa stablecoin card deal are direct outputs of his office.

OPENING ANGLE

"Eric, Ramp's Visa issuing deal and London launch create an exact structural fit with Racing Bulls right now - can we book 25 minutes?"

SCORE COMPOSITION

TIMING

20 / 20

Active $750M raise above $40B pre-money + London office opening converge into the entry window.

CAPACITY

20 / 20

Crossed $1B ARR (Aug 2025), $100B+ annualized purchase volume, profitability +153% YoY.

BRAND FIT

20 / 20

Visa issuing rail overlap with Racing Bulls' title sponsor; CFO-suite/developer demo match.

URGENCY

15 / 20

The Aug 2026 F1 London race is a hard calendar anchor for Ramp's UK onboarding launch.

OPS FIT

12 / 20

MODE B: back-office/treasury - Ramp serves the team's spend operation rather than the car.

RISKS & COUNTERS

VISA CHANNEL CONFLICT Ramp's Visa issuing deal could look like a conflict with the Visa title. Counter: It is a structural bridge - frame Ramp as the spend-intelligence layer above the existing Visa relationship; roles are architecturally distinct.

RAISE TIMELINE SLIPPAGE If the $750M close delays, budget authority may pause. Counter: Anchor outreach to the London race date - independent of the raise close and drives its own urgency.
