THE CASE

Snyk is a well-funded developer-security leader ($300M+ ARR) whose CEO has flagged a 2026 IPO. The security category on the F1 grid is uncontested, and a multi-year team partnership would give Snyk enterprise credibility ahead of a listing. Note the interplay: this is the same whitespace as JFrog - whoever signs first owns it.

WHY NOW

Pre-IPO brand-building budgets plus the open security category create a first-mover window that closes the moment a rival signs.

WHY ASTON MARTIN

Aston Martin's CISO-grade gravitas places Snyk's 'secure by design' story in front of the exact enterprise buyers it sells to.

VALUE TO ASTON MARTIN — MODE A (TECH IN THE CAR / CHAMPIONSHIP)

MODE A. Snyk integrates into developer workflows; an F1 team's growing in-house software estate is a real testbed and reference, supporting authentic 'secure development partner' storytelling and CISO hospitality.

DEAL ARCHITECTURE

Official partner tier, minimum three years, ~$3-4M/yr, with security-category exclusivity.

PRIMARY DECISION-MAKER

Snyk CMO (verify current holder)

MARKETING LEADERSHIP

Confirm current CMO and pre-IPO brand owner; CEO Peter McKay owns the IPO narrative.

OPENING ANGLE

"The security slot on the F1 grid is empty. JFrog and Sonatype both want it. First mover owns it for three years - ahead of your IPO. Is that you?"

SCORE COMPOSITION

TIMING

15 / 20

CEO flagged a 2026 IPO; building enterprise brand for a listing.

CAPACITY

17 / 20

Multi-billion valuation, $300M+ ARR (Dec 2024), well funded.

BRAND FIT

16 / 20

Developer/AppSec security; same uncontested grid whitespace as JFrog.

URGENCY

13 / 20

If JFrog or Sonatype move first, the security category locks.

OPS FIT

15 / 20

MODE A: an F1 team's software pipeline is a genuine developer-security surface.

RISKS & COUNTERS

IPO TIMING UNCERTAINTY Brand spend may wait for the listing. Counter: Sign now to lock category exclusivity; activate at IPO.
